

Marketplace Citizenship Data matching Expiration Notice – Multiple Applicant Household

Example: Thomas and Jane Doe applied to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) through the Marketplace. The Marketplace couldn't verify Thomas' citizenship status with the Security Administration (SSA). The Marketplace asks Thomas to submit documentation to provide his citizenship status, and determines Thomas is eligible to enroll in a Marketplace plan. Jane is listed as the primary contact for the application and is also determined eligible to enroll in a Marketplace plan without any data-matching issue. Thomas and Jane enroll in a Marketplace plan, but Thomas doesn't provide the Marketplace with documents needed to prove his U.S. citizenship by the due date. This notice lets Thomas know that his coverage through the Marketplace, and any tax credit or help with costs he was getting is going to end because he didn't provide documents to the Marketplace. It also explains that Jane will remain enrolled in the same Marketplace plan and provides her new tax credit amount.

Important: Eligibility for or help paying for health coverage is changing for you or someone in your household.

Dear Jane Doe:

You're getting this notice because the Marketplace asked you or someone on your application for documents to verify your application information, but we either didn't receive documents or received documents that didn't resolve the data matching issue.

This notice explains the changes that impact your family and what to do next.

Who is affected?

- Thomas Doe – We requested documentation proving that you're eligible to enroll in a health plan through the Marketplace, and sufficient documentation wasn't provided. You don't qualify for a health plan through the Marketplace, so your coverage and any tax credit or cost-sharing reductions you may have been receiving will end. You have the option to continue your coverage outside of the Marketplace, but you won't be able to receive a tax credit or cost-sharing reductions. We encourage you to contact your issuer directly if you wish to continue coverage outside the Marketplace.

What should I do next?

- Thomas Doe – You don't qualify for a health plan through the Marketplace and are no longer enrolled in the Marketplace health plan. You have the option to continue your coverage outside of the Marketplace, but you won't be able to receive a tax credit or cost-sharing reductions. We encourage you to contact the health plan directly to continue coverage outside the Marketplace and to pay the new premium.

Everyone else on the application who is eligible to be enrolled in a health plan through the Marketplace is still enrolled in the same health plan.

- For anyone who qualifies for a tax credit, the tax credit amount has changed to $210.00 per month. If you are enrolled in a health plan through the Marketplace, this change will be effective on the first day of the next month. Those who are still eligible and wish to continue coverage should contact the plan to find out the new premium amount.
- Your premium amount may be different because the Marketplace has adjusted how much of the tax credit is applied to your monthly costs (the “premium”) to $100.00 per month. Contact your plan to find out your new premium amount.

What should I do if I think my eligibility results are wrong?

You will receive a final eligibility determination notice containing information about how you may appeal if you think this decision is wrong.
